Good morning LaShana,

Just noticing that the ballot returned lists I've got don't include County ID--can you send me a full list of ballots returned with that column? Thanks!

Hi LaShana,

Thanks again for helping straighten out my records requests, I'm now receiving applications submitted/ballots sent and ballots returned. Perfect!

Exhibit B (handwritten)

Can you give me the info on early voting for NY-27 voters in Monroe Co? Are there specific procedures that voters will need to know about for in-person voting? And have poll locations been decided for election day?

Feel free to reply here or give me a call at the number below. Thanks so much!

Good afternoon:

A separate email will be sent out in regards to the information related to voters in the 27th Congressional District, with the volume of applications being received, I cannot confirm that we will be able to provide daily updates but we will do our best. Our Early Voting locations and times are listed on the website (https://www2.monroecounty.gov/elections-earlyvoting) . We are working on our list of election day sites. Please note that there will be a consolidation of sites as soon as it has been finalized, we will be sure to share. Additionally, we are in the process of drafting sanitation procedures for polling sites. I can confirm that we plane to have gloves, masks and sanitizer for poll workers, also masks and sanitizer for voters.

I will be sure to keep you updated as we get closer to the election. Thank you

Hi LaShana, happy Wednesday!

Sorry for this long message, but we want to make sure everything is set going into June. Thanks in advance! If you could send me the following lists:

- A list of ALL voters who have applied for an absentee ballot in the NY-27 special election since January 1st to today's date
- A list of ALL voters who have been sent a ballot to vote in the NY-27 special election
- A list of ALL voters who have returned their ballot for the NY-27 special election

With these lists, please include County ID, name, address, DOB, and phone numbers. If you have to send these by email or via the Monroe Co online system, either is fine.

In addition, we are requesting the following information (I know you sent EV locations to me last week, and you may not have some of the below info, just let me know what you do have and we'll wait on the rest):

- A list of locations, along with dates and associated times, for early voting
- A list of finalized locations for voting on election day
- A list or description of procedures that voters will need to follow to vote in-person (e.g., mask, gloves, sanitation, distance, etc.)

Thank you again for all your help so far. Going into June we'll be needing daily updates for the three lists above to keep our campaign up to speed and the public informed. We've been doing everything possible to educate on absentee voting, walk voters through the application process, and generally calm anxieties over the changes this election cycle. I know you've been hard at work keeping this election on the rails, and we're so grateful for everything you continue to do to bolster the democratic process in this difficult time. Please let me know if you have questions or need any clarification on the above.

Early Voting

EARLY VOTING IN NEW YORK STATE

The November General Election in 2019 provided the first Early Voting opportunity in New York State. Early Voting is available to all voters in Monroe County. Each year voting patterns are evaluated and adjustments made in locations and hours to further accommodate voters.

Voters are able to choose to vote at any site in the county. Voters could choose to vote at an Early Voting center near their workplace or school instead of near their home. Each site flexible enough to accommodate larger or smaller numbers of voters as needed during the nine-day period of Early Voting.

Use of Electronic Poll Books (E-Poll Books) used during the November 2019 Early Voting period will continue. E-Poll Books make certain voters only vote once, and are not able to go to another center and cast a ballotor go to a district site on Election Day. The E-Poll Books communicate via a secure network connection and only transmit non-personal information to update files. Based on where a voter lives, the E-Poll Books make certain voters are with given the correct ballot for the district they are registered, and reside in. Voters complete and scan their ballots utilizing the scanners used on Election Day. Ballot marking devices are available at all sites for voters who require assistance marking their ballot, along with well-trained staff.

The Legislation passed to implement Early Voting and provide for the use of E-Poll Books has several voter protections attached to it. The New York State Board of Elections detailed regulations build on those protections to make certain that New York's elections remain secure and ensure that every vote is counted.

None of the votes cast at an Early Voting center are counted until Election Day. Standards for protecting ballots and memory cards are extensive. A daily audit of each Early Voting center was required to establish and ensure that records of both blank and cast ballots matched the number of voters that used a center daily.

Affidavits (provisional ballots) available on Election Day are also available at Early Voting centers to make sure everyone completes a ballot even if for some reason they were not in our files. Early Voting centers function much like a normal polling site on Election Day but with more staff and heightened expertise.

We continue to strive to provide for a better voter experience and greater turnout, giving voters more options of when and where they can vote.
